Item 4: Advisory Business

Firm Description

Immaculate Wealth Management, LLC ("Advisor") was founded in 2013 and is registered in Arizona, California, and Texas. Mark E. Rauguth, CFP® is 100% owner.

Advisor provides investment management primarily to individuals. Advice is provided through consultation with the Client and may include: determination of financial objectives, identification of financial problems, cash flow management, tax planning, insurance review, investment management, education funding, retirement planning, and estate planning.

Advisor is a fee based financial planning and investment management firm. The firm does not sell annuities and insurance products, but the Managing Member offers insurance as an independent agent. He is also a registered representative of Gradient Securities, LLC.

Advisor does not act as a custodian of Client assets.

An evaluation of each Client's initial situation is provided to the Client, often in the form of a net worth statement, risk analysis or similar document. Periodic reviews are also communicated to provide reminders of the specific courses of action that need to be taken. More frequent reviews occur but are not necessarily communicated to the Client unless immediate changes are recommended.

Other professionals (e.g., lawyers, accountants, insurance agents, etc.) are engaged directly by the Client on an as-needed basis.

Types of Advisory Services

ASSET MANAGEMENT

Advisor offers discretionary direct asset management services to advisory Clients. Advisor will offer Clients ongoing portfolio management services through determining individual investment goals, time horizons, objectives, and risk tolerance. The Client will authorize Advisor discretionary authority to execute selected investment program transactions as stated within the Investment Advisory Agreement.

Financial Planning and Consulting fees are due half at commencement of the agreement with the remainder due upon delivery of the completed plan.

Additional Client Fees Charged

Custodians may charge transaction fees on purchases or sales of certain mutual funds, equities, and exchange-traded funds. These charges may include Mutual Fund transactions fees, postage and handling and miscellaneous fees (fee levied to recover costs associated with fees assessed by self-regulatory organizations). The selection of the security is more important than the nominal fee that the custodian charges to buy or sell the security.

Advisor, in its sole discretion, may waive its minimum fee and/or charge a lesser investment advisory fee based upon certain criteria (e.g., historical relationship, type of assets, anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amounts of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, negotiations with Clients, etc.). For more details on the brokerage practices, see Item 12 of this brochure.

Prepayment of Client Fees

Advisor charges financial planning fees 50% in advance.

External Compensation for the Sale of Securities to Clients

Mark Rauguth may receive external compensation for the sale of securities to Clients through his affiliation as a registered representative of Gradient Securities, LLC, member FINRA/MSRB/SIPC.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

Sharing of Capital Gains

Fees are not based on a share of the capital gains or capital appreciation of managed securities.

Advisor does not use a performance-based fee structure because of the conflict of interest. Performance based compensation may create an incentive for the advisor to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to the Client.

Item 7: Types of Clients

Description

Advisor generally provides investment advice primarily to individuals, high net worth individuals and corporations. Client relationships vary in scope and length of service.

Account Minimums

Advisor may require a $50,000 minimum to open an account, but may waive the account minimum at their discretion.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

Advisor may utilize fundamental analysis, technical analysis and cyclical analysis when managing Client's assets. Investing in securities involves risk of loss that Clients should be prepared to bear. Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns.

Fundamental analysis involves evaluating a stock using real data such as company revenues, earnings, return on equity, and profits margins to determine underlying value and potential growth. Technical or Chart analysis involves evaluating securities based on past prices and volume. Cyclical analysis involves analyzing the cycles of the market.

When creating a financial plan, Advisor utilizes fundamental analysis to provide review of insurance policies for economic value and income replacement. Technical analysis is used to review mutual funds and individual stocks.

In developing a financial plan for a Client, Advisor's analysis may include cash flow analysis, investment planning, risk management, retirement planning, tax planning and estate planning. Based on the information gathered, a detailed strategy is tailored to the Client's specific situation.

The main sources of information may include credible internet sources, financial newspapers and magazines, annual reports, prospectuses, and filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Investment Strategy

The investment strategy for a specific Client is based upon the objectives stated by the Client during consultations. The Client may change these objectives at any time. Each Client executes an Investment Policy Statement, Risk Tolerance or similar form that documents their objectives and desired investment strategy.

Other strategies may include long-term purchases, short-term purchases, trading, and option writing (including covered options, uncovered options or spreading strategies).

Security Specific Material Risks

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Fundamental analysis may involve interest rate risk, market risk, business risk, and financial risk. Risks involved in technical or Charting analysis are inflation risk, reinvestment risk, and market risk. Cyclical analysis involves inflation risk, market risk, and currency risk.

Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face the following investment risks and should discuss these risks with Advisor:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will buy more than a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.

- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

Criminal or Civil Actions

The firm and its management have not been involved in any criminal or civil action required to be reported.

For failure to report his AWC with FINRA within 30 days of signing, Mr. Rauguth received a fifteen day suspension from the California Insurance Commissioner and a $250 fine from the North Carolina Department of Insurance.

Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Material Relationships Maintained by this Advisory Business and Conflicts of Interest

Managing Member Mark E. Rauguth has an affiliated business as an insurance agent. He spends greater than 33% of his time in his insurance practice. He may offer Clients of Immaculate Wealth Management, LLC insurance products. As an insurance agent, he may receive separate yet typical compensation in the form of commissions for the sale of insurance products.

Mr. Rauguth is also a registered representative of Gradient Securities, LLC, Member FINRA/MSRB/SIPC. As a registered representative he may receive separate commissions for the sale of securities products.

These practices represent conflicts of interest because it gives Mr. Rauguth an incentive to recommend products based on the commission amount received. This conflict is mitigated by disclosures, procedures, and the firm's Fiduciary obligation to place the best interest of the Clients first and Clients are not required to purchase any products. Clients have the option to purchase these products through another insurance agent or registered representative of their choosing.

Recommendations or Selections of Other Investment Advisors and Conflicts of Interest

Advisor does not utilize the services of third party money managers.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics Description

The employees of Advisor have committed to a Code of Ethics ("Code"). The purpose of our Code is to set forth standards of conduct expected of Advisor employees and addresses conflicts that may arise. The Code defines acceptable behavior for employees of Advisor. The Code reflects Advisor and its supervised persons' responsibility to act in the best interest of their Client.

One area the Code addresses is when employees buy or sell securities for their personal accounts and how to mitigate any conflict of interest with our Clients. We do not allow any employees to use non-public material information for their personal profit or to use internal research for their personal benefit in conflict with the benefit to our Clients.

Advisor's policy prohibits any person from acting upon or otherwise misusing non-public or inside information. No advisory representative or other employee, officer or director of Advisor may recommend any transaction in a security or its derivative to advisory Clients or engage in personal securities transactions for a security or its derivatives if the advisory representative possesses material, non-public information regarding the security.

Advisor's Code is based on the guiding principle that the interests of the Client are our top priority. Advisor's officers, directors, advisors, and other employees have a fiduciary duty to our Clients and must diligently perform that duty to maintain the complete trust and confidence of our Clients. When a conflict arises, it is our obligation to put the Client's interests over the interests of either employees or the company.

The Code applies to "access" persons. "Access" persons are employees who have access to non-public information regarding any Clients' purchase or sale of securities, or non-public information regarding the portfolio holdings of any reportable fund, who are involved in making securities recommendations to Clients, or who have access to such recommendations that are non-public.

Advisor will provide a copy of the Code of Ethics to any Client or prospective Client upon request.

Investment Recommendations Involving a Material Financial Interest and Conflict of Interest

Advisor and its employees do not recommend to Clients securities in which we have a material financial interest.

Advisory Firm Purchase of Same Securities Recommended to Clients and Conflicts of Interest

Advisor's employees may buy or sell securities that are also held by Clients. In order to mitigate conflicts of interest such as front running, employees are required to disclose all reportable securities transactions as well as provide Advisor with copies of their brokerage statements.

The Chief Compliance Officer of Advisor is Mark E. Rauguth. He reviews all employee trades each month. The personal trading reviews helps mitigate that the personal trading of employees does not affect the markets and that Clients of the firm have received preferential treatment over employee trades.

Client Securities Recommendations or Trades and Concurrent Advisory Firm Securities Transactions and Conflicts of Interest

Advisor does not maintain a firm proprietary trading account and does not have a material financial interest in any securities being recommended and therefore no conflicts of interest exist. However, employees may buy or sell securities at the same time they buy or sell securities for Clients. In order to mitigate conflicts of interest such as front running, employees are required to disclose all reportable securities transactions as well as provide Advisor with copies of their brokerage statements.

The Chief Compliance Officer of Advisor is Mark E. Rauguth. He reviews all employee trades each quarter. The personal trading reviews ensure that the personal trading of employees does not affect the markets and that Clients of the firm receive preferential treatment over employee transactions.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

Factors Used to Select Broker-Dealers for Client Transactions

Advisor will recommend the use of a particular broker-dealer based on their duty to seek best execution for the client, meaning they have an obligation to obtain the most favorable terms for a client under the circumstances. The determination of what may constitute best execution and price in the execution of a securities transaction by a broker involves a number of considerations and is subjective. Factors affecting brokerage selection include the overall direct net economic result to the portfolios, the efficiency with which the transaction is affected, the ability to effect the transaction where a large block is involved, the operational facilities of the broker-dealer, the value of an ongoing relationship with such broker and the financial strength and stability of the broker. Advisor will select appropriate brokers based on a number of factors including but not limited to their relatively low transaction fees and reporting ability. Advisor relies on its broker to provide its execution services at the best prices available. Lower fees for comparable services may be available from other sources. Clients pay for any and all custodial fees in addition to the advisory fee charged by Advisor. Advisor does not receive any portion of the trading fees.

Advisor will recommend the use of Charles Schwab & Co., Inc.

- Directed Brokerage
  In circumstances where a Client directs Advisor to use a certain broker-dealer, Advisor still has a fiduciary duty to its Clients. The following may apply with Directed Brokerage: Advisor's inability to negotiate commissions, to obtain volume discounts, there may be a disparity in commission charges among Clients, and conflicts of interest arising from brokerage firm referrals.

- Best Execution
  Investment advisors who manage or supervise Client portfolios on a discretionary basis have a fiduciary obligation of best execution. The determination of what may constitute best execution and price in the execution of a securities transaction by a broker involves a number of considerations and is subjective. Factors affecting brokerage selection include the overall direct net economic result to the portfolios, the efficiency with which the transaction is effected, the ability to effect the transaction where a large block is involved, the operational facilities of the broker-dealer, the value of an ongoing relationship with such broker and the financial strength and stability of the broker. The firm does not receive any portion of the trading fees.

- Soft Dollar Arrangements
  Advisor utilizes the services of custodial broker dealers. Economic benefits are received by Advisor which would not be received if Advisor did not give investment advice to Clients. The benefits include: A dedicated trading desk, a dedicated service group and an account services manager dedicated to Advisor's accounts, ability to conduct "block" Client trades, electronic download of trades, balances and positions, duplicate and batched Client statements, and the ability to have advisory fees directly deducted from Client accounts.

  A conflict of interest exists when Advisor receives soft dollars. This conflict is mitigated by the fact that Mr. Rauguth has a fiduciary responsibility to act in the best interest of his Clients and the services received are beneficial to all Clients.

Aggregating Securities Transactions for Client Accounts

Advisor may aggregate purchases and sales and other transactions made for the account with purchases and sales and transactions in the same securities for other Clients of Advisor. All Clients participating in the aggregated order shall receive an average share price with all other transaction costs shared on a pro-rated basis.

Item 13: Review of Accounts

Schedule for Periodic Review of Client Accounts or Financial Plans and Advisory Persons Involved

Account reviews are performed at least quarterly by Managing Member/Chief Compliance Officer Mark Rauguth or other Investment Advisor Representative assigned to the account. Account reviews are performed more frequently when market conditions dictate.

Review of Client Accounts on Non-Periodic Basis

Other conditions that may trigger a review of Clients' accounts are changes in the tax laws, new investment information, and changes in a Client's own situation.

Content of Client Provided Reports and Frequency

Clients receive written account statements no less than quarterly for managed accounts. Account statements are issued by the Advisor's custodian. Client receives confirmations of each transaction in account from Custodian and an additional statement during any month in which a transaction occurs.

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Economic Benefits Provided to the Advisory Firm from External Sources and Conflicts of Interest

Advisor receives additional economic benefits from external sources as described above in Item 12.

Advisory Firm Payments for Client Referrals

Advisor does not compensate for Client referrals.

Item 15: Custody

Account Statements

All assets are held at qualified custodians, which means the custodians provide account statements directly to Clients at their address of record at least quarterly or monthly if any activity occurs during the month. Clients are urged to compare the account statements received directly from their custodians to the performance report statements prepared by Advisor.

Advisor is deemed to have constructive custody solely because advisory fees are directly deducted from Client's account by the custodian on behalf of Advisor.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

Discretionary Authority for Trading

Advisor accepts discretionary authority to manage securities accounts on behalf of Clients. Advisor has the authority to determine, without obtaining specific Client consent, the securities to be bought or sold, and the amount of the securities to be bought or sold. The Client will authorize Advisor discretionary authority to execute selected investment program transactions as stated within the Investment Advisory Agreement.

The Client approves the custodian to be used and the commission rates paid to the custodian. Advisor does not receive any portion of the transaction fees or commissions paid by the Client to the custodian on certain trades.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities

Proxy Votes

Advisor does not vote proxies on securities. Clients are expected to vote their own proxies. The Client will receive their proxies directly from the custodian of their account or from a transfer agent.

When assistance on voting proxies is requested, Advisor will provide recommendations to the Client. If a conflict of interest exists, it will be disclosed to the Client. Client may call Advisor at 480-776-3511 with questions.

Item 18: Financial Information

Balance Sheet

A balance sheet is not required to be provided because Advisor does not serve as a custodian for Client funds or securities and Advisor does not require prepayment of fees of more than $1200 per Client and six months or more in advance.

Financial Conditions Reasonably Likely to Impair Advisory Firm's Ability to Meet Commitments to Clients

Advisor has no condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to our Clients.

Bankruptcy Petitions during the Past Ten Years

No bankruptcy petitions to report.
