Firm Description

Immaculate Wealth Management, LLC ("Advisor") is an investment advisor registered with the State of Arizona, California, and Texas. Advisor offers investment advice to clients through the Wrap Fee Program ("Program") based on the individual needs of the client. Advisor is the sponsor of the Program. Mark E. Rauguth, CFP® is 100% owner of the Advisor and responsible for management of the Program accounts. He has been in the financial services industry since 1986 and an investment advisor representative since 2013.

This disclosure brochure is limited to describing the Program and other information that client should consider prior to establishing an account in the Program. For a complete description of other programs and services offered by Advisor, clients should refer to Advisor's Form ADV Part 2A, a copy of which will be provided by Advisor to client upon request.

Program Services

The Program offers clients an asset management account in which Advisor directs and manages Program assets for clients. The client authorizes Advisor to purchase and sell securities on a discretionary basis. This means Advisor has the authority to determine, without obtaining specific client consent, the securities to be bought or sold, as well the amount of the securities to be bought or sold.

Advisor obtains the necessary financial data from the client and assists the client in setting appropriate investment objectives for the Program account. Advisor obtains updated information from the client as necessary in order to provide personalized investment advice to the client.

Client will be required to enter into a written agreement with Advisor in order to establish a Program account. Client will also be required to complete an application with the broker/dealer that will act as custodian for Program account assets.

A Wrap Fee Program is an investment advisory program in which you pay one fee for both investment advisory services and the transaction costs in your account.

The Program Fee is not based directly upon the actual transaction or execution costs for the transactions within your account. Depending on the underlying investments in your Program and how much trading activity occurs, you may pay more or less than if you chose another advisory program that does not have a wrap fee, or if you chose to pay separately for all of your transaction costs (e.g., pay the advisory fee plus all transaction charges). Advisor will utilize the wrap fee for more actively traded client accounts. Advisor will review your investment options with you to determine the best offering for you. Similar services to those offered in the Program may be purchased from another unaffiliated financial services provider.

Program Fees

The annual investment advisory fee ("Annual Fee") schedule for the Program is described below:

Assets Under Management	Maximum Annual Fee	Maximum Quarterly Fee
$0 - $100,000	2%	.50%
$100,001 - $500,000	1.75%	.4375%
$500,001 - $1,000,000	1.50%	.375%
$1,000,001 - $3,000,000	1.30%	.325%
$3,000,001+	1%	.25%

Advisor's annual fee may be negotiable. Accounts within the same household may be combined for a reduced fee. Fees are billed quarterly in advance or in arrears based on the amount of assets managed as of the close of business on the last business day of the quarter. Quarterly advisory fees deducted from the clients' account by the custodian. Lower fees for comparable services may be available from other sources.

Additional deposits and withdrawals will be added or subtracted from account assets, as the case may be, which may lead to an adjustment of the Annual Fee. All Annual Fees are deducted from the account by the custodian unless other arrangements have been made in writing. The Annual Fee is paid to and retained by Advisor and the advisory representatives.

In addition to the Annual Fee, client may also incur certain charges imposed by third parties in connection with investments made through Program accounts, including those imposed by the custodian. These may include, but are not limited to, the following: mutual fund or money market 12b-1 fees, sub-transfer agent fees, certain deferred sales charges on previously purchased mutual funds transferred into the account, other transaction charges and service fees, IRA and qualified retirement plan fees, alternative investment administrative fees, administrative servicing fees for trust accounts, creation and development fees or similar fees imposed by unit investment trust sponsors, managed futures investor servicing fees, and other charges required by law. Advisor does not receive any portion of these fees. Further information regarding charges and fees assessed by a mutual fund or variable annuity are available in the appropriate prospectus.

Mutual funds may also charge a redemption fee if a redemption is made within a specific time period following the investment. The terms of any redemption fee are disclosed in the fund's prospectus. Transactions in mutual fund shares (e.g., for rebalancing, liquidations, deposits or tax harvesting) may be subject to a fund's frequent trading policy.

Client should be aware that margin borrowing involves additional risks. Margin borrowing will result in increased gain if the value of the securities in the account go up, but will result in increased losses if the account value decreases.

Item 5: Account Requirements and Types of Clients

Account Minimum

Advisor requires a minimum of $50,000 to open an account, but the firm does have the discretion and may waive the account minimum.

Types of Clients

Advisor generally provides investment advice primarily to individuals, high net worth individuals and corporations.

Item 6: Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation

Portfolio Manager

Mark E. Rauguth, Managing Member, will manage all Program accounts.

In general, all individuals that render investment advice on behalf of Advisor are required to have a college degree and/or five (5) years of equivalent industry experience. In addition, all Advisory representatives must have obtained all required licenses or a professional designation.

Each individual will be reviewed and considered on a case-by-case basis by an executive member of Advisor. Advisor requires that individuals have high standards or morals and ethics and be committed to providing quality investment advice.

Conflicts of Interest

The Program may cost the client more or less than purchasing Program services separately. Factors that bear upon the cost of the Program account in relation to the cost of the same services purchased separately include: the type and size of the account, the historical and/or expected size or number of trades for the account, and the number and range of supplementary advisory and client related services provided to the account.

The Annual Fee is an ongoing fee for investment advisory services and may cost the client more than if the assets were held in a traditional brokerage account. In a brokerage account, a client is charged a commission for each transaction and the representative has no duty to provide ongoing advice with respect to the account. If the client plans to follow a buy and hold strategy for the account or does not wish to purchase ongoing investment advice or management services, the client should consider opening a brokerage account rather than a Program account.

Advisor receives compensation as a result of the client's participation in the Program. The amount of this compensation may be more or less than what Advisor would receive if the client participated in other programs or paid separately for investment advice, brokerage and other client services. Therefore, Advisor may have a financial incentive to recommend the Program account over other programs and services.

Advisory Business

Advisor offers clients an asset management account through the Program in which Advisor directs and manages Program assets for client.

The goals and objectives for each client are documented in our client files. Investment strategies are created that reflect the stated goals and objective. Clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities.

Sharing of Capital Gains

Fees are not based on a share of the capital gains or capital appreciation of managed securities.

Advisor does not use a performance-based fee structure because of the potential conflict of interest. Performance-based compensation may create an incentive for the advisor to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to the client.

Methods of Analysis

Advisor may utilize fundamental analysis and cyclical analysis when managing client's assets. Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns.

Fundamental analysis involves evaluating a stock using real data such as company revenues, earnings, return on equity, and profits margins to determine underlying value and potential growth. Cyclical analysis involves analyzing the cycles of the market.

The main sources of information include Morningstar, internet sources, financial newspapers and magazines, annual reports, prospectuses, and filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Investment Strategy

The investment strategy for a specific client is based upon the objectives stated by the client during consultations. The client may change these objectives at any time. Each client executes an Investment Policy Statement or Risk Tolerance that documents their objectives and their desired investment strategy.

Other strategies may include either or both short and long term investments, strategic or tactical trading, as well as option writing (including covered options, uncovered options or spreading strategies) and managed futures.

Security Specific Material Risks

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Fundamental analysis may involve interest rate risk, market risk, business risk, and financial risk. Cyclical analysis involves inflation risk, market risk, and currency risk.

Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face the following investment risks and should discuss these risks with Advisor:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will buy more than a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

Proxy Voting

Advisor does not vote proxies on securities. Clients are expected to vote their own proxies. The client will receive their proxies directly from the custodian of their account or from a transfer agent.

When assistance on voting proxies is requested, Advisor will provide recommendations to the client. If a conflict of interest exists, it will be disclosed to the client

Item 7: Client Information Provided to Portfolio Managers

Description

Advisor obtains the necessary financial data from the client and assists the client in setting appropriate investment objectives for the Program account. Advisor obtains updated information from the client as necessary in order to provide personalized investment advice to the client.

Client will be required to enter into a written agreement with Advisor in order to establish a Program account. Client will also be required to complete an application with the broker/dealer that will act as custodian for Program account assets.

Item 8: Client Contact with Portfolio Managers

Restrictions

There are no restrictions placed on clients' ability to contact and consult with the portfolio managers since Mark E. Rauguth is the portfolio manager.

Item 9: Additional Information

Disciplinary Information

Criminal or Civil Actions

Advisor and its management have not been involved in any criminal or civil action.

Administrative Enforcement Proceedings

Advisor and its management have not been involved in administrative enforcement proceedings.

Self-Regulatory Organization Enforcement Proceedings

Without admitting or denying the findings, Mark Rauguth signed an Acceptance, Waiver & Consent (AWC) on 3/4/2014. His member firm terminated him for allegations of improper use of the signature guarantee stamp. He was suspended for 15 days ending 4/28/2014 from working in any capacity for any FINRA member firm and was fined $5000.00.

For failure to report his AWC with FINRA within 30 days of signing, Mr. Rauguth received a fifteen day suspension from the California Insurance Commissioner and a $250 fine from the North Carolina Department of Insurance.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Broker-Dealer or Representative Registration

Mark Rauguth is a registered representative of a broker-dealer, Gradient Securities, LLC, Member FINRA/MSRB/SIPC. There are no other pending applications.

Futures or Commodity Registration

Advisor does not have an application pending to register as a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, or a commodity trading advisor.

Material Relationships Maintained by this Advisory Business and Conflicts of Interest

Managing Member Mark E. Rauguth has an affiliated business as an insurance agent. He spends greater than 33% of his time in his insurance practice. He may offer clients of Immaculate Wealth Management, LLC insurance products. As an insurance agent, he may receive separate yet typical compensation in the form of commissions for the sale of insurance products.

Mr. Rauguth is also a registered representative of Gradient Securities, LLC, Member FINRA/MSRB/SIPC. He may receive separate commissions for the sale of securities products.

These practices represent conflicts of interest because it gives Mr. Rauguth an incentive to recommend products based on the commission amount received. This conflict is mitigated by disclosures, procedures, and the firm's Fiduciary obligation to place the best interest of the clients first and clients are not required to purchase any products. Clients have the option to purchase these products through another insurance agent or registered representative of their choosing.

Code of Ethics Description

The employees of Advisor have committed to a Code of Ethics ("Code"). The purpose of our Code is to set forth standards of conduct expected of Advisor employees and addresses conflicts that may arise. The Code defines acceptable behavior for employees of Advisor. The Code reflects Advisor and its supervised persons' responsibility to act in the best interest of their client.

One area the Code addresses is when employees buy or sell securities for their personal accounts and how to mitigate any conflict of interest with our clients. We do not allow any employees to use non-public material information for their personal profit or to use internal research for their personal benefit in conflict with the benefit to our clients.

Advisor's policy prohibits any person from acting upon or otherwise misusing non-public or inside information. No advisory representative or other employee, officer or director of Advisor may recommend any transaction in a security or its derivative to Advisory clients or engage in personal securities transactions for a security or its derivatives if the Advisory representative possesses material, non-public information regarding the security.

Advisor's Code is based on the guiding principle that the interests of the client are our top priority. Advisor's officers, directors, advisors, and other employees have a fiduciary duty to our clients and must diligently perform that duty to maintain the complete trust and confidence of our clients. When a conflict arises, it is our obligation to put the client's interests over the interests of either employees or the company.

The Code applies to “access” persons. “Access” persons are employees who have access to non-public information regarding any clients' purchase or sale of securities, or non-public information regarding the portfolio holdings of any reportable fund, who are involved in making securities recommendations to clients, or who have access to such recommendations that are non-public.

Investment Recommendations Involving a Material Financial Interest and Conflict of Interest

Advisor and its employees do not recommend to clients securities in which we have a material financial interest.

Advisory Firm Purchase of Same Securities Recommended to Clients and Conflicts of Interest

Advisor’s employees may buy or sell securities that are also held by clients. In order to avoid potential conflicts of interest such as front running of client trades, employees are required to disclose all reportable securities transactions as well as provide Advisor with copies of their brokerage statements.

The Chief Compliance Officer of Advisor is Mark E. Rauguth. He reviews all employee trades each quarter. The personal trading reviews ensure that the personal trading of employees does not affect the markets and that clients of the firm receive preferential treatment over employee transactions.

Client Securities Recommendations or Trades and Concurrent Advisory Firm Securities Transactions and Conflicts of Interest

Advisor does not maintain a firm proprietary trading account and does not have a material financial interest in any securities being recommended and therefore no conflicts of interest exist. However, employees may buy or sell securities at the same time they buy or sell securities for clients. In order to mitigate conflicts of interest such as front running, employees are required to disclose all reportable securities transactions as well as provide Advisor with copies of their brokerage statements.

The Chief Compliance Officer of Advisor is Mark E. Rauguth. He reviews all employee trades each quarter. The personal trading reviews ensure that the personal trading of employees does not affect the markets and that clients of the firm receive preferential treatment over employee transactions.

Review of Accounts

Schedule for Periodic Review of Client Accounts and Advisory Persons Involved

Account reviews are performed at least quarterly by Mark E. Rauguth. Account reviews are performed more frequently when market conditions dictate.

Review of Client Accounts on Non-Periodic Basis

Other conditions that may trigger a review of clients accounts are changes in the tax laws, new investment information, and changes in a client's own situation.

Content of Client Provided Reports and Frequency

Clients receive written account statements usually on a monthly basis, but no less than quarterly for managed accounts. Account performance reports are issued on a quarterly basis.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Economic Benefits Provided to the Advisory Firm from External Sources and Conflicts of Interest

Advisor receives a portion of the annual management fees collected from the third party money managers to whom Advisor refers clients.

This situation creates a conflict of interest because Advisor and/or its Investment Advisor Representative have an incentive to decide what Third Party Money Managers to use because of the higher solicitor fees to be received by Advisor. However, when referring clients to a third party money manager, the client's best interest will be the main determining factor of Advisor.

Advisory Firm Payments for Client Referrals

Advisor does not compensate for client referrals.

Financial Information

Balance Sheet

A balance sheet is not required to be provided because Advisor does not serve as a custodian for client funds or securities and Advisor does not require prepayment of fees of more than $1200 per client and six months or more in advance.

Financial Conditions Reasonably Likely to Impair Advisory Firm's Ability to Meet Commitments to Clients

Advisor has no condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to our clients.

Bankruptcy Petitions during the Past Ten Years

Neither Advisor nor its management has had any bankruptcy petitions in the last ten years.
